

DRUPALCAMP AUSTIN

NOVEMBER 19-20, 2011

HOWDY!

DrupalCamp Austin 2011 is happening this November 19-20. Last year's DrupalCamp drew more than 300 attendees from across the US and Europe, as well as presenters from some of the world's top Drupal shops. After just two years, DrupalCamp Austin has established itself among the Drupal community's top annual gatherings.

Everybody loved last year's venue, so we're returning to the AT&T Executive Education and Conference Center, which can accommodate 300 attendees in a single room. We've expanded the camp to include four simultaneous sessions and two days of concurrent training. Speakers will be flying in from all over to drop some serious Drupal know-how.

But we need your help! We're looking for a handful of AWESOME organizations and individuals who can help keep ticket prices low by sponsoring DrupalCamp Austin at a variety of levels.

Sponsoring DrupalCamp Austin is a great way to connect with the Drupal community and increase exposure at one of the world's largest DrupalCamps. We think you'll be a great fit.

SPONSORSHIP LEVELS

LONE STAR

Just like the sheriff, there's only one of these in town.

LONGHORN

We've got three up for grabs. They may be big, but they move fast!

ARMADILLO

We found four scrounging for tacos under I-35. Won't you please adopt one?

BAT

Austin's got millions of bats. DrupalCamp's only got six.
